Lowrance Marine Electronics

For over 50 years, Lowrance has been at the forefront of technological innovation in marine electronics.

Shop Lowrance

Lowrance invented fishing technology and continues to refine electronics equipment and applications today. CHIRP Sonar provides the best in underwater imaging, both downward and to the sides. Highly accurate, built-in GPS and C-MAP charts navigate you to your favorite fishing spot.

Since the introduction of the first High Definition System (HDS) Multifunction Display in 2008, Lowrance has launched a staggering number of new products and features that truly redefine marine electronics -- such as StructureScan® HD with SideScan and DownScan Imaging™ picturelike views, Broadband Sonar, Trackback™ review for scrolling back in live sonar history, low-power and high-definition Broadband 4G Radar for navigating in any and all conditions, StructureMap to develop your own map data, and a wide range of fresh and saltwater mapping products. Extremely easy to use, yet packed with the features anglers the world over know and love, Lowrance marine electronics continue to set the bar for the best recreational fishing technology.

Lowrance sonar fish-finders and GPS chartplotters consistently outscore the competition for performance, functionality and screen clarity. The Lowrance product line offers a size and price to suit every need and boat, and you can depend on their Research & Development program to deliver regular upgrades and improvements. The Lowrance radar family includes the revolutionary Broadband Radar, and the Lowrance StructureScan begins a new era in underwater viewing.

Polyform

Polyform boat fenders and buoys are manufactured in the USA and recognized in ports and marinas across the world.

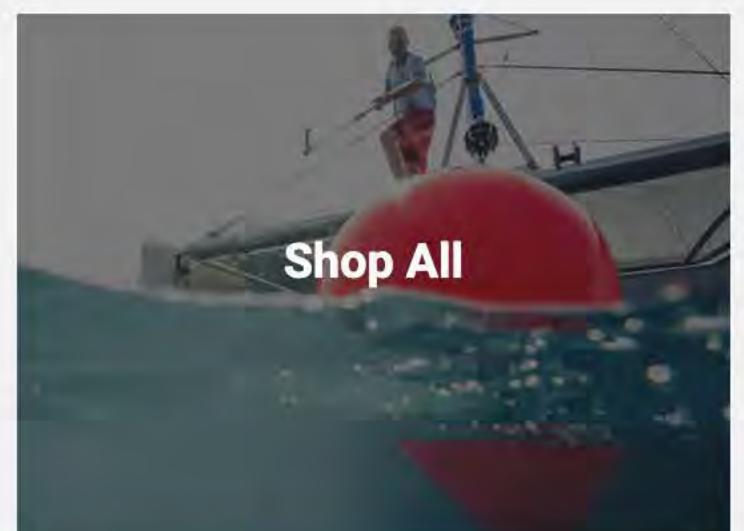

Known for their signature blue rope-holds and trusted, durable designs, Polyform sets the standard for quality buoys and boat fenders.

Shop Polyform

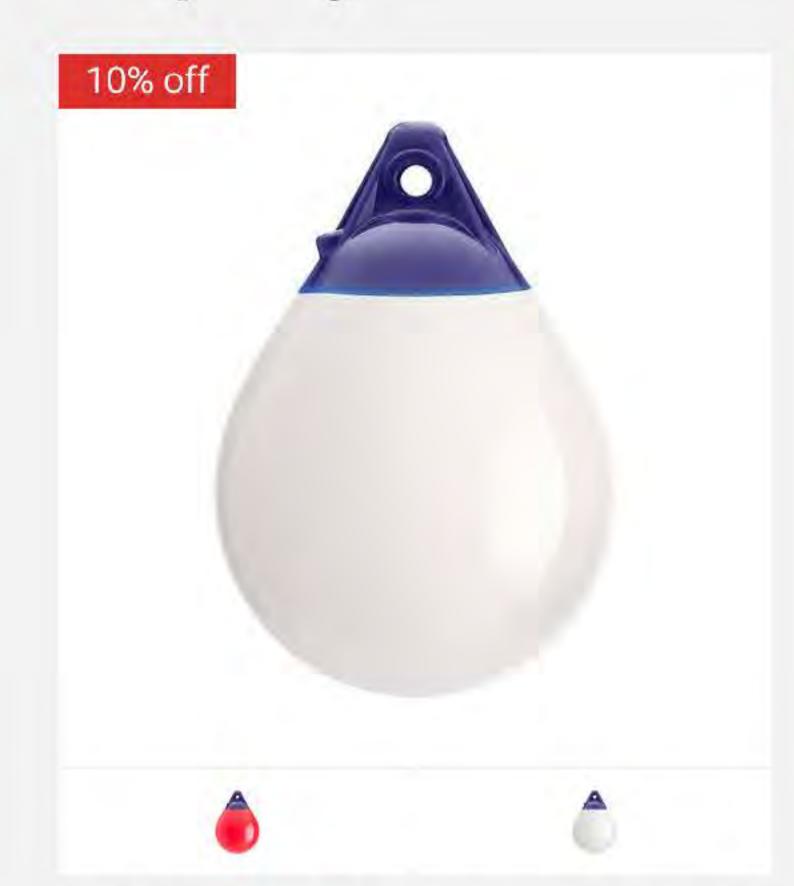

Discover What Makes Them Uniquely Polyform.

The Polyform story began in the coastal town of Ålesund, Norway in 1955. Polyform's founders invented the world's first plastic buoy and this quickly became the heart of the business. In the 1970s the facility in the Pacific Northwest was established and became Polyform U.S.

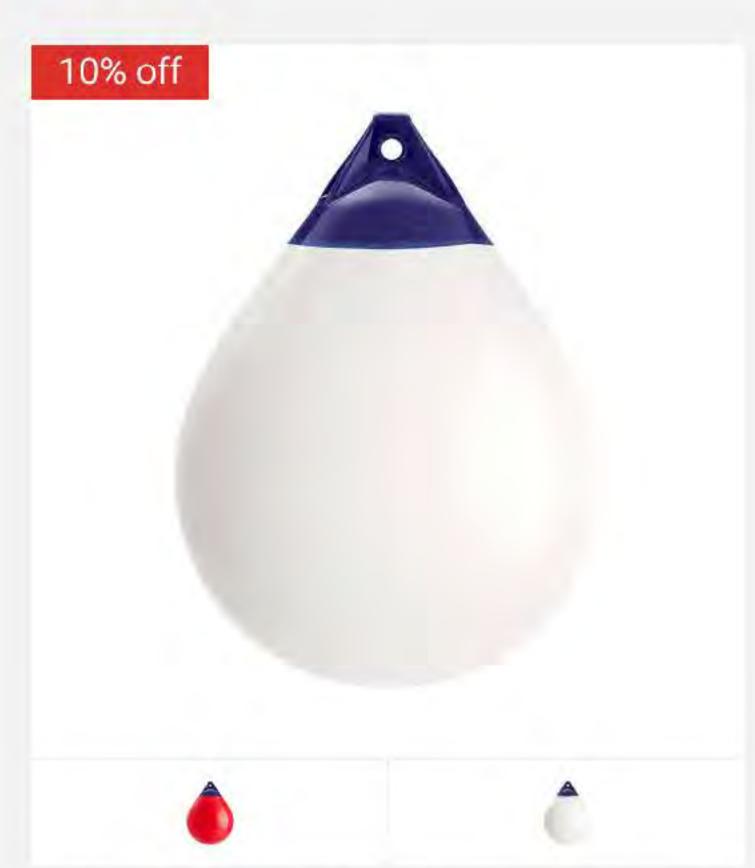

Today Polyform U.S. continues to be a thriving family-owned business and all products are designed and produced in the Kent, Washington facility. Their products are built for the world's most challenging marine environments, and they take pride in being trusted worldwide for their commitment to quality and craftsmanship.
